

Never in the history of the stock market has a fraud such as Global Crossing been so blatantly attempted to be covered up. I'm sure this type of disgusting activity has been going on throughout history but never this obvious. What has become of the world we live in? What happens to society when EVERYONE feels they are above the law - not just the rich and powerful? When a public company can say or do whatever they feel without any accountability or responsibility to shareholders, what happens to our markets? Are we becoming a society where vigilantes will run rampant because no one has faith anymore in the rule of law? Global Crossing was and is a scam on the American people. The corrupt management lied, cheated and stole from the shareholders and some of the creditors. You know it, the government knows it, the shareholders know it, everyone involved knows it and nothing is being done. I pray, for the sake of my children and the future of this once great Nation that SOMEONE at the FCC says enough is enough and finally does something about it.
